Captain's Column

Hi everyone and welcome to Round 11 of the 2020 Suncorp Super Netball season.

What a cracker of a game we have in-store as we get ready to face-off against the Melbourne Vixens for the second time in a couple of weeks.

Before going further, I think we should address our loss to the Queensland Firebirds on Saturday. First and foremost, the Queenslanders deserved the points and pretty much had the upper hand all over the court.

While you have to give credit to a team that were simply better on the day, that doesn't mean you shouldn't do some serious soul searching in the short turnaround between games. Believe me, we've done a lot of it since Saturday.

Honesty is key to success. The fact is we are still looking for consistent cohesive performances where all parts of our attack and defence fire in sync for a full 60 minutes.

We came close against the Sunshine Coast Lightning a few weeks ago but we're the Premiers and we haven't lived up to that title so far this year. Pressure is privilege, being the hunted is an honour every team wants but our actions haven't matched our words.

Despite this, we're still second on the ladder and in a strong position to make Finals - even the top-two. Our destiny remains in our own hands.

But now we know that winning ugly won't suffice any more. As the regular season starts to reach the business end every team is fighting for their lives, and there are three sides outside the top four still in with a good shot of making the playoffs.

I want the Firebirds game to be a watershed moment for this team in 2020. Just plodding along and relying on smarts won't cut it. Put simply, we've got to be better. Last year's success showed we're good enough, but 'good enough' won't suffice later this season because no-one stands still in this game.

Let's hit the reset button. Start again. It begins with the Vixens. Together We Can.

Round 10 Recap

An out-of-sorts NSW Swifts fell to the Queensland Firebirds 64-77 in Round 10 of Suncorp Super Netball in Brisbane last Saturday.

A dominant first quarter set the tone for the Firebirds, who recorded their third win of the season to keep their Finals hopes alive.

Confusion in the Swifts' attacking end gave Queensland the turnovers needed to take an 8-5 lead midway through the first quarter, forcing Briony Akle to call an early timeout.

Maddy Proud was injected into the game and the supply of ball to Sam Wallace and Helen Housby became smoother but the Firebirds' defence was getting to every loose ball first, and having more success under the post.

A Tippah Dwan Suncorp Super Shot and steady scoring from Romelda Aiken put the Firebirds 19-12 up at quarter-time.

In Q2 the Premiers were finding it hard to make inroads into Queensland's lead. Akle called another timeout and it appeared to pay dividends as her team won possession back, and when Housby followed up with an athletic intercept in the midcourt the Swifts seemed to be back in business.

However more turnovers and three Dwan Super Shots meant the impetus was firmly with the Firebirds.

Early in the second half both sides were guilty of conceding possession on a number of occasions but neither could take advantage.

When Queensland made a rare error on attack Housby punished them with a pair of Super Shots but the Swifts failed to score from their next two centre passes. From there Aiken and Dwan pushed Queensland's lead out to 11, leaving the Premiers with a mountain to climb in the final quarter.

When it came to the final Rebel Power Five the Swifts had to take risks, and despite some Super Shots going in, it was too little too late as Dwan put some gloss on the scoreline from range, consigning NSW to their third defeat from ten outings.

A Project everyone can get behind

It speaks volumes for the heroic work carried out every year by The Kids' Cancer Project that star NSW Swifts player Lauren Moore wanted to shave her long golden locks to raise funds for them.

But that's just what the defender did during the COVID19 lockdown, broadcasting her head-shave live on the internet and raising over $17,000 in the process.

"It's not what you look like on the outside that matters, but what you feel on the inside," Moore said at the time.

"The Swifts have a long relationship with The Kids'

Cancer Project and when I heard some of the stories of the families they are helping it made me think I really want to do something.

"I am lucky enough to be in a position where my family, friends, teammates, the club and wider netball community were able to get behind me to help raise awareness.

"With the COVID19 pandemic taking all the headlines just now I think people can forget that other horrible diseases such as children's cancer haven't gone away.

"By helping remind people that The Kids' Cancer Project are still working as hard as ever, I think we managed to do some good."

Founded by Col Reynolds OAM, the charity looks to make a difference to the lives of kids living with cancer. They support bold science that has the greatest chance of clinical success to improve childhood cancer treatments, and aim to see a 100 per cent survival rate for patients while eradicating the harmful impacts treatment can bring.

The current global pandemic has had a big effect on the NSW netball community's ability to fundraise for the charity in 2020, but 17 Associations have already signed up for Crazy Hair & Sock Day – an annual initiative – since the state started to reopen.

NSW Swifts captain Maddy Proud, who loves to wear some Crazy Hair, said the club was honoured to continue its strong relationship with The Kids' Cancer Project.

"WITH THE COVID19 PANDEMIC TAKING ALL THE HEADLINES JUST NOW I THINK PEOPLE CAN FORGET THAT OTHER HORRIBLE DISEASES SUCH AS CHILDREN'S CANCER HAVEN'T GONE AWAY."

– LAUREN MOORE

FEATURE

Lauren Moore shortly after losing her locks back in April

“Lozzie (Moore) really inspired us earlier in the year with her commitment to raising funds but then she said ‘what I’m doing is nothing compared to what the sick children and their families are going through’.

“That put it all into perspective and the need to have charities like the one Col founded is vital. I know the pandemic has made it more difficult for clubs and Associations across NSW to hold Crazy Hair & Sock Days, but there is still time – it really is a brilliant cause.” ●

Swifts Shoutout

SUELLEN MAIR SENDS A SHOUTOUT TO HER DAUGHTER

"My daughter lives and breathes everything Swifts. At four years old she knows all the players names and their positions. She can't wait until next year where she can play netball herself. She goes to bed with her Swifty Bear and constantly sings the Netball team girls song. She loves the team and cheers them on every game (even if it's from the lounge room at the moment). She tells everyone that Briony is her favourite coach and that one day she will hand the ball to Paigey at the beginning of a game."
